Educating For Heaven

Educating For Heaven™ connects Columbus Catholic homeschooling families by providing a central location for homeschool information and support. Families new to Catholic homeschooling can easily find the information and support necessary for a successful entry to homeschooling.

Educating For Heaven™ promotes Catholic homeschooling through understanding and accepting home educators, supporting Catholic homeschooling families, and maintaining relationships with groups in Ohio dedicated to the purpose and success of Catholic homeschooling.

“Since parents have given children their life, they are bound by the most serious obligation to educate their offspring and therefore must be recognized as the primary and principal educators” - Vatican Council II, Declaration on Christian Education
